The TBTLT concept uses a lateral resisting mooring system to the submerged base to reduce offsets due to under water currents and horizontal forces resulting from the reactions of the upper tendons. Further details of the TBTLT concept are discussed in the technical papers [5 - 8]. The main particulars of a prototype TLP are given in Table 1.

The Advanced Encryption Standard (AES) specifies a FIPS-approved cryptographic algorithm that can be used to protect electronic data. The AES algorithm is a symmetric block cipher that can encrypt (encipher) and decrypt (decipher) information. Encryption converts data to an unintelligible form called ciphertext; decrypting the ciphertext converts the data back into its original form, called ...
