A pipe is a tubular section or hollow cylinder, usually but not necessarily of circular cross-section, used mainly to convey substances which can flow — liquids and gases (), slurries, powders and masses of small solids.It can also be used for structural applications; hollow pipe is far stiffer per unit weight than solid members. In common usage the words pipe and tube are usually ...

In fluid mechanics, multiphase flow is the simultaneous flow of materials with two or more thermodynamic phases. Virtually all processing technologies from cavitating pumps and turbines to paper-making and the construction of plastics involve some form of multiphase flow. It is also prevalent in many natural phenomena.. These phases may consist of one chemical component (e.g. flow of water and ...

Pump Operation. The pump is the heart of the high pressure cleaning system. Like the human heart, most pumps are built to last for a lifetime. Many different types of pumps are available but only a few of these pump configurations develop sufficient pressures at relatively low flows and are priced economically enough for widespread use in the high pressure cleaning equipment industry.
