This sermon is the final message in the nine-part series The Righteous Are as Bold as a Lion.. I bring this series on courage to a close with the text that has served to relieve my fears more often than any other text in the Bible — namely, Isaiah 41:10. I've told you the story before. But since it's Father's Day, I will tell you again, as a kind of tribute to my father — and my ...

I've got just two articles remaining in this series I've titled "Why I Am Not..." Week by week I am describing why I have rejected some theological positions in favor of others and my purpose is not so much to persuade as it is to explain. There is a story behind every position I hold and each of these articles tells one of those stories.

Last week I began a new series titled "Why I Am Not..." and in this series I am exploring some of the things I do not believe as a means to explaining what I do believe. In the last article I explained why I am not atheist and now want to explain why I am not Roman Catholic. The timing of this article is unplanned but rather appropriate. I publish today from Orlando, Florida where I am ...

(32) And I, if I be lifted up from the earth.--The pronoun is strongly emphatic. "And I," in opposition to the prince of this world; the conqueror in opposition to the vanquished foe. The conditional form, "If I be lifted up," answers to the "troubled soul" of John 12:27. He knows that it will be so, but He leaves the future to declare its own truths.
