In chemistry, an ideal solution or ideal mixture is a solution with thermodynamic properties analogous to those of a mixture of ideal gases. The enthalpy of mixing is zero as is the volume change on mixing by definition; the closer to zero the enthalpy of mixing is, the more "ideal" the behaviour of the solution becomes. The vapor pressure of the solution obeys Raoult's law, and the activity ...

A partial molar property is a thermodynamic quantity which indicates how an extensive property of a solution or mixture varies with changes in the molar composition of the mixture at constant temperature and pressure. Essentially it is the partial derivative of the extensive property with respect to the amount (number of moles) of the component of interest.

The aim of this review is to provide a framework for thinking about geochemical situations necessary for life to originate from mixtures of simple inorganic compounds (e.g., CO₂, N₂, H₂O, H₃PO₄) on the Hadean Earth. To date, a number of varied environments have been proposed as being favorable for prebiotic chemistry (Deamer et al., 2006, Ricardo and Szostak, 2009, Benner et al., 2012 ...

Fibromyalgia is currently understood to be a disorder of central pain processing or a syndrome of central sensitivity. Clauw describes the syndrome as a diffuse problem of sensory "volume control" such that patients have a lower threshold of pain and of other stimuli, such as heat, noise, and strong odors.
